Use the "alertMe" Notification Tool

The Recorder's department offers an alertMe Notification Tool that can send you email or text alerts when there are updates to your property records www.westmorelandcountypa.gov. This can help you quickly detect new filings.

It's time to freshen up your financial security.

As we shake off the winter and welcome new beginnings, why not let your financial habits blossom as well? Just like clearing out clutter helps you feel organized at home, nurturing your financial well-being can help you grow peace of mind all season long. We're here to help you cultivate positive changes and see your security "bloom" with confidence.

By adding a few trusted tools, you can help your accounts spring ahead with sturdy protection. Here are two ways to keep your finances secure this season and watch your efforts take root:

1. Password Managers

Keeping track of unique, strong passwords for every account can feel like trying to remember where you planted every flower bulb. A password manager does the digging for you, creating and storing complex passwords in one well-established, encrypted "garden." It's a simple way to tidy up your digital life and protect what matters most as you watch your security spring to life.

2. Credit Monitoring Services

Awareness is your best ally for a fresh financial start. Credit monitoring services quietly "sprout" alerts about any changes in your credit report, with clear pricing and accessible customer support. By staying informed, you'll be ready to spring into action if anything unusual pops up, just like a gardener catching early weeds.

HOLIDAY CLOSINGS

The Credit Union Office will be closed on the following holidays.

July 3, 2026 Independence Day

September 7, 2026 Labor Day

October 12, 2026 Columbus Day

Lock down your accounts: Password tips

For email, banking, shopping and more, passwords are your first line of defense in protecting the places your information lives online. A few simple habits can make it much harder for scammers to break in. Here are a few ways to help strengthen your defenses:

- 1. Use a unique password for each account. If one site is hacked, your other accounts are likely to stay safer.
- 2. Turn on multi-factor authentication (MFA). An important second lock, MFA is the extra code sent to your phone or generated in an app.
- 3. Use a long passphrase. Aim for 16 or more characters, like a few random words (for example: river-lamp-coffee-train). Remember: longer is stronger.
- 4. Skip easy patterns. Avoid "Password1," keyboard patterns or adding a single number at the end; these are the first things criminals try.
- 5. Don't use personal details. Skip birthdays, pet names, grandkids' names or anything someone could guess from social media.
- 6. Consider a password manager (a secure "vault"). It can create and store strong passwords for you, so you only have to remember one strong master passphrase.

Small changes make a big difference. Pick one tip to try today to help you be better protected.
